PUBLISHED TUESDAY AND FRIDAY MORNING.

Office 18 and 20 Ninth Street.

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1893.

France said the word and Siammen had to wigwag.

The paid attendance at the Fair is nearly 6,000,000 up to date.

The widow of the late Maj. Al McGoodwin is a candidate for superintendent of schools in Graves county.

More than 5,000 pensions have been suspended for further proof since March 4, but only 245 have been actually dropped from the rolls.

A net saving of $116,888 has been made in the last two months by purging the pension rolls of fraudulent claimants and the good work has only begun.

Posey Ball, of Henderson, and Ike Quigley, of Paducah, will both go back to the Legislature without opposition in their own party. The former will be candidate for speaker.

That race for appellate Judge in our adjoining district between Bill Yost and Willis Reeves will be a hummer. Both of them are "liners" of Christian, but most of our people will "decide" for the big man from Muhlenberg.

The senatorial race is made up in the Princeton district. Sam Nunn is the Democratic nominee and W. J. Deboe is his Republican opponent. The district is close enough for the third party to endanger Nunn's election, if it makes a nomination.

The report that the newly-appointed Collectors in Kentucky would have no difficulty in finding enough Democrats to fill the positions under them proves to be true. This continued evidence of patriotism must be pleasing to every lover of his country—Jesse James Journal.

Another handsome increase in the school per capita is announced. It is $2.85 this year against $2.50 in 1892 and $2.25 in 1891. This is for both whites and blacks, as Democratic Kentucky treats the colored children with absolute fairness and places them upon exactly the same footing with white children.

Among the articles in the August Forum will be two about Congress and the Financial Crisis—one on "India's Action and the Sherman Law," by Mr. Horace White, and the other on "The Dime of Silver" as a measure of value, by Edward O. Leach, formerly Director of the Mint. These sum up the current silver controversy in its acutest stage.

The seven conspirators who killed poor Abbie Oliver Delaney in Union county are on trial at Morganfield. The man who fired the fatal shot should be hanged as high as Haman.

The members of the gang know who killed the girl and if the less guilty ones do not give up their knowledge and help to fix the crime upon the right man, the whole outfit should be swung upon the same gallows.

The pension purgers are striking some tall but very rotten timber as their good work progresses. Judge Chas. D. Long, one of the judges of the Supreme Court of Michigan at a salary of $7,000, has had a pension of $72 a month for "total disability" suspended, and the records show that Lester Turner allowed him nearly $7,000 in alleged arrears without any legal authority, and three times increased his pension, which was originally $30 per month.

The triangular race for senator in the district composed of Meade, Breckenridge and Hancock counties is growing very interesting. Gus Richardson, Jack Gross and W. E. Minor are the candidates. The last named is for Lindsay for senator and Gross is against Lindsay and for a "Western man." The Breckenridge News intimates that if Gross and Minor both stay on, Richardson, the red whiskered statesman from Meade, will beat them both.

Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., who served in the last House and later in the Senate as Senator Lindsay's successor made an assignment at Frankfort, last week. The firm of E. H. Taylor & Son consisting of Col. Taylor and his two sons, operated the largest distillery business in that portion of the State. The assignment was made to a Lexington trust company. The liabilities are supposed to be about $100,000 and the assets are expected to be more. Col. Taylor was considered a very rich man and is personally one of the most popular men in the State.

Tom Pettit with the check of a government mule has announced himself a candidate for the State Senate from Daviess and McLean counties, on the third party ticket. Now let the Owensboro Inquirer make good its boast about the Daviess county Democracy, by seeing that Tommy is elected to stay at home. The district last year gave Cleveland 4,300, Harrison 2,174, Weaver 2,000 and Bidwell 1,620 votes, a Democratic majority over all of 20 and a plurality of more than 2,000. If the Democrats Tom Pettit be elected it will be the first time they do not do their duty.

Gov. Markham, of California, has appointed Ex-Governor George C. Perkins to succeed Senator Stanford. He is of course a Republican, though the Legislature is Democratic.

The Kentucky National Bank, at Louisville, J. M. Fetter, President, closed Friday, but is expected to pay out. This is the first Kentucky bank so far to fail this summer.

The Maharajah of Kapurthala, accompanied by one of his numerous wives, arrived at New York Saturday to take in the World's Fair. He has with him a large party of distinguished Indian officials.

It is reported that Congressman Goodright will not be a candidate for re-election in the Third district next year, and that Hon. John Rhea of Russellville, will be in the race for the Democratic nomination.

Alonso W. Little, a brother of Judge L. P. Little, of Owensboro, shot and killed a lawyer named Ben E. Johnson in Kansas City last week. Judge Little has gone to Missouri to help his brother out of the scrape the tragedy has put him in.

Mrs. Howerton says she has not had the heart to kill a Kentucky flea that she found on her when she reached Boston, so attached is she to her native state. Mrs. Howerton by her own confession has fleas on her, but her record shows that as a getter up of sensations she is free from fleas.

Lynchings No. 49 and 50 for 1893 occurred last Saturday. The first was a negro convict in Florida, who outraged a nine-year-old child of Carr Elliott, and the other was Lee Walker, col., at Memphis, who attempted a similar crime on Miss McCadden. Walker was taken from the Memphis jail. These make six since July 8th.

The August Californian, with the exception of the brilliant Columbian issue for July, is one of the finest numbers ever published. Among its varied attractions are three complete stories, the first of which, "A Smoothed Fire," by Harriet Prescott Spofford, is a brilliant narrative of a woman's heroism and self-sacrifice. "The Caverns of Ulo," by Verner Z. Reed, is the tale of a lost tribe in the Land of the Montezumas and is embellished with many striking illustrations, while the "Romance of Yousan," by John W. Wood, is a Japanese story, which has the distinction of being illustrated by a native Japanese artist.

Fetter's Southern Magazine for August is out with a most attractive table of contents. The leading article on Audubon, by General Basil W. Duke, is finely written and beautifully decorated. Cheap money schemes and legislation are rebuked in the Hon. Flournoy Rivers' sketch of "Andrew Jackson and the Land Banks"—a theme fruitful of good results in this period of financial nostrums and panaceas. The number is beautifully and profusely illustrated by some of the leading artists of this country of fine illustrators. Altogether the August number of Fetter's Southern Magazine marks an epoch in Southern literature in the Southland.

The trouble over the boundary line between Siam and the French province of Annam, which has existed for several months, has assumed a threatening shape. France anchored a fleet in the Mekong river last week and notified the King of Siam that he must accede to her demands within forty-eight hours or Bangkok would be bombarded. Siam replied within the stipulated time conceding about half of the disputed territory, but France is not satisfied and has ordered a blockade. The Siamese warships are anchored one mile from the French gunboats and are preparing to ram and board the French vessels at the first show of hostility. An immediate outbreak is expected. China will back Siam, and Russia will stand by France. England is believed to be encouraging Siam and a sure enough war may be the result.

Many curious and interesting sights are seen on the Midway Plaisance, this street of all nations, the Mecca of all visitors to the Great World's Fair at Chicago; but among all its exhibits the "Panorama of the Swiss Alps" is doubtless the most highly artistic. To those whose good fortune it has been to go "abroad," this panorama awakens old memories, and to the many who have been less fortunate this really grand painting is a revelation. It is a perfect representation of the famed Bernese Oberland, as it would appear in all the immensity of reality to a sight-seer in the midst of the Alps. The illusion is made perfect by the truthfulness of local color and by the vigorous and sincere painting of such artists as Bernard, Baud-Bovy and Furet. This superb canvas was painted in Paris, France, for the express purpose of exhibition at the World's Fair, and has received the well-deserved encomiums of all the leading French and American artists.

Must Be Able to Read, (Gives a list of names.) Circuit Judge Green, in a murder trial at Williamson, decided that not being able to read disqualified a person from sitting on a jury. It is the first time the question has been raised, we believe. Section 225 of the criminal code provides: "The court shall, on motion of either party, and before argument to the jury, instruct the jury on the law applicable to the case, which shall always be given in writing." Congressman Dickerson made the point that each jurymen should be able to read the instructions himself, and it could not do otherwise.

THIS TIME WAS UP.

Dan Taylor Drops Dead While Consulting his Watch.

The uncertainty of life was again exemplified in a startling manner Sunday morning, when Mr. Dan M. Taylor, the veteran saloon man, dropped dead while sitting on his front porch. Mr. Taylor had been down in town to receive the ice to fill the refrigerator in his saloon on Seventh street, in the rear of the Bank of Hopkinsville. After attending to this he returned home and for some time sat conversing in a pleasant manner with his wife on the porch. Shortly after 11 o'clock, Mrs. Taylor went into the house and her husband remained on the porch alone. At 11:30 o'clock he pulled out his watch to consult the time and without a moment's warning toppled over from his chair dead. A small colored boy saw him fall and quickly gave the alarm. When he was reached the spark of life had gone out. He still held his watch in his nervous hand. The dial of the timepiece upon which his eyes last rested had recorded not only the hour of the day but the end of his earthly career.

Mr. Taylor was an old and well-known citizen. He was 69 years old and had for many years been engaged in the saloon business and had accumulated a comfortable estate. He had no family excepting his wife. They lived in a cottage on East Seventh street. His funeral services were held yesterday evening at 4 o'clock, from the residence. The interment took place in Hopewell Cemetery with the honors of the order of Odd Fellows of which he was a member.

The Coming Encampment.

A Bowling Green special under date of July 22 says: "Workmen are engaged to-day at the fair grounds putting up necessary buildings for the commissary department of the coming State Guard Encampment. The grounds have already been laid off, the pipe for the water supply is laid, and, in fact, about all the preliminaries have been arranged."

John L. Stout, of this city, has received a commission from the governor as Brigadier Quartermaster, and he will look after supplies for the boys during the entire encampment. He is a good man for the place, and the militia may expect to be well fed.

The Frankfort people continue their efforts to make trouble by sending anonymous communications to our merchants, warning them against extending credit to the State and furnishing supplies for the encampment unless paid in advance. This gracious advice is not appreciated by our merchants, as they feel amply able to take care of themselves. They are not afraid of the State "repudiating" their bills, and will furnish everything the proper authorities may order.

By the first of August the camp will be in splendid shape and in every way ready for the Second regiment, which is expected to arrive here on the afternoon of that day. Quite a number of rooms have been taken at the different Hotels for ladies and others who will attend the encampment.

The Third regiment to which Co. D belongs will leave Hopkinsville at 4:05 a. m., Aug. 11, and the companies from Madisonville, Henderson, Princeton, Mayfield and Paducah will reach Bowling Green on the same train. The Hodgenville company will go via Elizabethtown. Each regiment will be in camp for ten days.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Mrs. David N. Kibler of Shenleyton, Va., was a sufferer with stomach trouble. At times she was in severe pain and great misery. Her pain would seize her in the right side and at times shoot from the hip to the breast. She also suffered with the body and limbs. Physicians failed to diagnose the case and medicines failed to cure.

Hood's Sarsaparilla quickly brought about a change and the result has been a perfect restoration to health.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

To County School Trustees.

The general per capita of pupil children will be for this school year $2.85. Trustees will please use caution against making contracts for specific amount, based on actual number of children, as the per capita announced will be reduced in each county somewhat by the making up of the local districts to '45.

The delay in determining what amount of school funds is available this year has been caused by the late day at which the Board of Equalization was compelled to begin its work here. The Auditor was not furnished even approximate amount of Sheriff's revenue until to-day.

Yours Truly, S. L. FARRER, Co. Supt.

The German at Cerulean.

The first German of the season at Cerulean came off last Friday evening and was a most enjoyable social affair. There were about thirty couples in attendance, this city, Owensboro, Clarksville and Princeton each furnishing delegations. Ward's orchestra discoursed sweet music on the occasion and this proved quite a feature. A similar program will again be carried out at an early date at this famous watering place and pleasure resort.

On Saturday evening the young people assembled at the springs enjoyed a progressive outdoor party which afforded much merriment, and a number of prizes were awarded the best players. This feature of the week's amusements proved a drawing card, and will also be repeated this week.

The management have secured an elegant string band for the balance of the season and the musicians are daily expected. The next grand ball will occur Friday evening.

Sunday's register showed the following Hopkinsville people on hand: E. H. Price, wife and daughter; John Young and two daughters, Misses Eva Leonard and Jessie; D. Ware and wife; Jas. Thompson and wife; Wm. Cowin and daughter, Miss Cornelia; W. A. Wilgus and wife; Mrs. Dr. E. R. Cook, Mrs. Cornelia Phelps, Misses Mary and Annie Barbour, Mary Cayce, Emma and Lizzie Johnson, and Messrs. H. W. Tibbs, J. F. Pyle, B. W. Harned, Dr. T. G. Yates, W. H. Olive, T. L. Metcalfe, A. S. Pro Rata Apportionments.

Collector Powers has announced that he will distribute the patronage of his office according to the Democratic vote of the several counties. This being the case, the following table will be of more than ordinary interest. There were 53,215 Democratic votes cast for Cleveland in 1892 in the 39 counties of the Second district. On the basis of 152 employees, the number reported from the Federal roster, the apportionment here is as follows: This gives 150 or fraction over 175. This gives 150 and the other two places are assigned to the counties having the next largest fractions—McLean & Todd. The result is as follows:

Four liquor licenses have been granted to parties in Princeton and it is understood that there will be two more applicants. The matter of contest is still in the courts, but the owners of the saloons have decided to go ahead anyway and take the consequences. The license is $500 in the place. The police force will be increased and preparations are being made to maintain good order in the town at all hazards.

The freight wreck near Madisonville last week was more serious than was at first reported. Fifteen box cars loaded with watermelons, potatoes, etc., were derailed and demolished together with their contents and had to be burned. The truck was torn up for a considerable distance and it took the "wrecker" twelve hours to handle the debris and clear the track. The loss to the railroad company will reach $8,000. The train men jumped and escaped injury.

Messrs. Collins and Murphy, of Macedonia, have sold their Saw and Grist mill to Esq. J. P. Alexander, of Dawson.

Mr. J. J. White, who moved to Missouri last fall, has returned with his family to old Ky., where he will probably make his home in the future.

Mr. McDunbar, Esq. Alexander's engineer, had his left ankle crushed in a horrible manner by a falling tree a few days ago. Dr. Brown, of Dawson, and Dr. D. M. White, of Macedonia, dressed the wound. It was thought that his foot would have to be amputated, but the unfortunate man was doing reasonably well at last accounts.

Mrs. Minnie (White) Alexander died at her home at Macedonia on the 12th inst. Deceased was the wife of Mr. J. P. Alexander and daughter of Mr. J. J. White, who had just returned from Missouri. She died of consumption, in the 20th year of her age. She leaves two little children.

Ada, the ten-year old daughter of Mr. W. S. Barnett, died of congestion, on Friday the 14th inst. Another one of Mr. Barnett's children was dangerously ill of same trouble at last accounts.
